SOLOMON-TENENBAUM LECTURE

Dr. Sander L. Gilman will examine the slippery definition of who is a "Jew" and who hates / loves "Jews" — and why these are often independent of one another. He will look at why such images are created and how they are employed. Examples will focus on the fantasies about "Jews," their bodies, and their "essence" in modern society. Moderated by UofSC's Dr. Agnes Mueller.

Please note that the talk is intended to make listeners uncomfortable with easy answers. It will include a study of images intended to be anti-Semitic.
