WCSU DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WORK AND
OFFICE OF DIVERSITY AND EQUITY
PRESENT:

DEAR BLACK MALE…

PRESENTED BY:

WELCOME2REALITY

INSTRUCTOR NAMES:

ANTHONY GAY, BS
MARCUS STALLWORTH, LMSW
QUR-AN WEBB, MSW

DATE:

FEBRUARY 8, 2021
9AM—11AM EST
LOCATION: ZOOM

2 Continuing Education Credits Offered To Those Eligible

This webinar will focus on how historical and systemic inequity continues to exist for Black Males. Although some of these biases may be unconscious, stereotypes and the misrepresentation of Black Males in the media often interferes with their ability to receive fair treatment. Some Black males develop a sense of distrust towards community supports such as law enforcement and mental health providers, which can hinder their willingness to seek and engage in services.

Participants will:

- Explore how systematic oppression, implicit bias, and unaddressed physical and mental health can impact Black Males.
- Identify how cultural responses to mental health can impede Black male's willingness to participate in counseling.
- Discover specific skills intended to engage with Black Males more effectively.
- Learn skills to promote psychological safety of the Black male.
- Be offered skills and techniques to assess and evaluate how their own values and experiences with Black Males contribute to service delivery.

WHERE TO REGISTER:

https://forms.office.com/Pages/ResponsePage.aspx?id=vC1i4bqUrUiHu6fygHTuPSyA4xUjqNhGpW068JtCG-1UN0xKSzBCMVlKWldDRURKOVoyR00yNkhEMy4u