

"Each Man Has Only One Genuine Vocation…

"…to find the way to himself…His task is to discover his own destiny–and live it out whole and resolutely within himself. Everything else is only a would-be existence."

– Herman Hesse

Know Yourself. Live Your Purpose. Lead Your World.

The BraveHeart Intensive helps you partner with God to find your purpose, align your life with your deepest values, and step into a bigger story of influence and impact.

Through our immersive training process, you'll recover your connection to your own masculine soul. You'll reconnect to what really matters to you, to what you want to build with your life, and identify what's been stopping you from living the life you were created to live. You'll partner with God and with other men in new ways, uncovering together the deep truth of who God says you are, and His highest dream for your life. We'll cut through the noise and constant distraction of the world to get a clear view of where you are, where your soul feels called to go, and what it's going to take to get there.

Thoreau once observed that "most men live lives of quiet desperation," spending their strength every day on a thousand petty demands and pointless battles that are all too small for them. You were made for more. The BraveHeart Intensive helps you name your "more" and go after it with your whole heart.

Go to the website below and apply today. The clarity and direction you gain here will pay dividends for the rest of your life.
