Growing awareness and building community

MASTER TRAINER REGISTRATION

Are you passionate about the care of young people in your community? Have you ever wondered about the well-being of those who suffered abuse as a child? Would you like to be part of a coalition that champions healing across the state of Indiana? If you said yes to any of the previous questions, please register to be an ACEs Indiana Coalition Master Trainer. ACEs stands for Adverse Childhood Experiences, which is the research that reveals a correlation between early negative life events and increased risk for poor physical and mental health outcomes later in life. During the two-day training, you will dive into the original ACE study, receive tools on how to foster resilience, discuss historical trauma, and how to build self-healing communities. As a Master Trainer, you will also join the ACEs Indiana Coalition, a community of practice of hundreds of professionals across the state. The Coalition hosts quarterly meetings creating opportunities to collaborate and network with other professionals dedicated to building self-healing communities. This two-day training will prepare you to facilitate this information in your organization and community.
