NOAH'S BANDAGE PROJECT

Noah Wilson, a 6 year old boy, was diagnosed with cancer. During the time of his treatment, he used to get many shots and would always get the boring brown bandages. Noah decided to create a project collecting "cool and fun" bandages for hospitals. He decided on this idea because many children diagnosed with cancer had lost their hair and the bandages would help show their identities and personalities. Despite all of his troubles, Noah continued to help the kids around him.

Be like Noah . . Be a WARRIOR!

What can YOU do to help support the WCMS Student Council?

1) Collect fun bandages
2) Drop the bandages in the collection boxes at the entrance (collection held during the month of April)
3) Inspire others by telling them about Noah's Bandage Project
