SPEAKER

Sandy Walsh, RVT, CVPM

A lifelong animal lover, Sandy has dedicated more than 35 years to the veterinary profession. Having worked her way up through the ranks from pet care attendant to CSR, RVT and regional hospital director, she shares her “in the trenches” experience in a fun and engaging way. Sandy teaches and consults with private practices, speaks at conferences, and writes for several veterinary publications in an effort to assist hospital team members in becoming the best they can be and to help them take their practices to the next level of excellence.

RACE provider #203, programs are pending approval.
