A goodbye to a boss and a thank you. This week, I'm celebrating 14 years here at Fox 2 News. At the same time, my boss, Kevin Roseborough is celebrating his retirement. He spent nearly 30 years here. I have wanted to work at Fox 2 since I was a little kid. In my 20's, I used to come to this station at least once a year, asking for a job. This guy was the one who greeted me, every time. In 2009, he joined other managers and signed off on hiring me. It was and still is a dream job. Kevin truly was instrumental in molding me into the newsman I am today. He helped make dreams come true for countless journalists. Grateful for 14 years and for the leadership of this guy.
