LIFE UPDATE: I'm beyond excited to announce I'm moving to Louisville to be the next ND at WAVE. It is Kentucky's first TV station, and is celebrating 75 years later this year. It is also the flagship station of the Kentucky Derby.

Louisville has been a city I've loved since my first visit in 2008. The music, the culture, the plethora of things to do, the funkiness, and yes, the bourbon. Many of you know my wife Nikki has been based in Louisville as a flight attendant and we own a small home here.

I've loved every minute of my time at WVLT and east TN. It is going to be hard to leave. I have appreciated them welcoming me like family, their warmth, caring for one another and the dedication to serving this community. Whoever gets my job will have an incredible team. Start is TBD, but likely by mid-late August.