Subject: Hey Everyone!

Hey Fabulous News Directors,

I hope you're doing well and having a great week!

The post for a News Director job at WAVE is now available – and I've already had a few people reach out, so I figured I'd send a quick note to say – don't worry, I'm good!

My wife is an attorney who has been working remotely for the past few years as she's followed me around place to place. She has opportunities to grow, but she needs to be closer to her firm to make it all happen. So we need to move. She's a passionate family immigration lawyer and I'm proud to support her career, which is really just beginning.

It works out that in doing so, I will be blessed with some free time to spend with my mom, who is battling cancer for the second time. I'm excited to be her cheerleader and hype woman and help advocate for her health and treatment options and hopefully – get her all fixed up!

I love Gray, love WAVE, and love all of you. But I know we'll keep in touch and I'm not leaving until early August, so you're stuck with me for a bit. In the meantime, if you or someone you know is interested in this job – reach out to John O'Brien. He's a great, supportive GM and this is a wonderful newsroom.

Thanks everyone!
Jenelle
