KTNV colleagues:

I am pleased to announce Jessie Williams, currently senior director of news at the Scripps-owned WSYM in Lansing, Michigan, will become the news director effective Monday, Aug 29.

Jessie has excelled at each of her roles within Scripps. Prior to WSYM, she served as the executive producer at Scripps' WTMJ in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and as a news producer at Scripps' WXYZ and WMYD in Detroit.

Jessie's career path at Scripps is a great example of the culture of employee growth and development we are cultivating at KTNV and at our company.

Jessie oversaw the launch of the WSYM newsroom and the execution of 36.5 hours of weekly broadcasts. She has been involved in Scripps leadership initiatives (including being a Scripps Leadership Champion in Detroit), employee engagement and equity, diversity, and inclusion committees.

Jessie has a bachelor's degree in broadcast and cinematic arts, advertising, and business administration from Central Michigan University. When she's not leading the newsroom, Jessie enjoys travel, soccer games and cooking.

Please join me in congratulating Jessie!

Jeff
