29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"What do you wish me to do for you?" Whether we realize it, this is a question God is always asking. It's an important question because the answer we provide will reveal a great deal about where our hearts lie. Our requests of God can often appear very noble and altruistic. They consist of requests for healing for someone in need of prayers, successful resolution of a personal conflict, assistance in overcoming a disease and myriad other desires for both ourselves and others. We are especially concerned about those we love and can easily find ourselves bringing their struggles to God for a hearing in our prayer.

Is that really all that prayer is about? The woman in today's Gospel, having been put in her place by Jesus, was only looking out for the wellbeing of her sons. She was doing what mothers do, protecting and securing the livelihood of her children. But she was sadly mistaken, her request was not granted. We all make this same misguided mistake from time to time. The goal of prayer is not to convince God of the worthiness of our agenda or to gain a hearing. Sometimes we believe that the more we multiply our prayers or discover the right combination of supplications that we will receive more of God's attention. That's not how it works. Even though God desires to hear, know, and be an intimate part of what is on our minds, it goes much deeper.

What we need from God is a relationship. It's a relationship that guides and immerses us in the very stuff of life and in the direction of the Gospel. This relationship sees God's kingdom and agenda, not our own, as what is most important. It builds the strength of character necessary to bring God's Gospel into a world that may not receive it with open arms. It may cause us discomfort and suffering. We are asked to heroically journey with God through suffering, hardship, ridicule, and even death! Ultimately, our desire from God must become our desire for God. It is only when this happens that the powerful words "thy will be done" will be found with sincerity and humility on our lips. Whatever God wishes becomes what we wish as we see this glorious union of wills. Our humble lives will then become powerful witnesses, and what happens to us in God's eternal kingdom the result of his mercy. We become true servants and find ourselves discovering God's definition of success. That definition has nothing at all to do with status, income, or privilege.

Joint Mass of Remembrance
Commemorating All the Faithful Departed

Tuesday, November 2, at 7:00 pm

St. Teresa Church, 1201 Lebanon Ave

We will be remembering all those who have died this past year during a Joint Mass of Remembrance on All Souls Day. All are welcome to come and remember their loved ones.

Thank you for stepping up this past year for St. Vincent DePaul

In FY2021, as stewards of your donations and trust we were able to assist 144 families consisting of 314 people. We kept the power on for 65 families, water running for 33 more, and gave rental assistance to an additional 28. Sewer bills, medication, furniture, and transportation accounts for most of the other items. in total we distributed $26,010.87 since Oct 1, 2020. Again this year our members went monthly to assist @ Cosgrove's Kitchen, held 3 food and clothing collections after Mass, were heavily involved in 40 Days for Life, and assumed all administrative expenses except $57.29 for checks. 11 SVDP members and 314 of your neighbors thank you very much for your generosity.

Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time
17 October 2021

Isaiah 53:10-11. Psalm 33:4-5, 18-19, 20, 22.
Hebrews 4:14-16. Mark 10:35-45.

What Do You Wish? We go to Jesus all the time, asking, pleading, wanting. We ask to be healthy; we plead to be safe; we want this, that, and the other for ourselves and for those we love. In our going to him, Jesus asks: "What do you wish me to do for you?" Then he listens. Sometimes our asking is right on. Sometimes it is pushy, overly ambitious, seeking top-dog status. Then Jesus says, do not be a bad king or queen; instead, act like a slave, be a servant. Grasping the cross is the way to the Kingdom of God.

- What honor or prestige do I want that I really do not need?
- When next I ask Jesus for what I wish, what needs of others will I also add to the list?
- How will I serve and when will I serve others this week?

Children's Liturgy Reminder

It has been great to see all the children at Children's Liturgy the past two weeks! If your child has attended Children's Liturgy or plans to attend, please be sure to return the contact form your child was given to the envelope hanging by the main church entry door OR email your contact information (child's name and age, your name, phone, email, and address) to volunteer coordinator Lizzie Lehde at lizzielehde@gmail.com. This includes our junior high assistants. We must have this information to comply with Diocesan COVID regulations. Thank you!

St. Teresa's Parish and Friends have "adopted" every Monday for the 5 Mondays during the 40DFL Fall campaign. Our first Monday was September 27 from 7am-7pm. We have most of the time slots pretty-well covered but would love to have more representation at the "fence" at Planned Parenthood in Fairview Heights, for those able; and many prayers from those unable to physically attend. If you can adopt 1 hour each Monday to join your prayers with ours for an End to Abortion, you will be so welcome and so blessed! Please contact one of the following to sign up or for more information:

What's in it for me?

I think we've all been guilty of looking at a situation and wondering what's in it for us. It doesn't matter if it's a particular work assignment, someone at the parish asking for help with the mission trip bake sale, or your spouse asking if you'll take over the grocery shopping this week. Often, our first reaction to one of these requests is a heavy sigh and the thought: "If I do this, what will I get?"

Sometimes it surprises us to realize that the Apostles were no different. We tend to idolize these contemporaries of Christ as giants who walked with the Savior. But in reality, these individuals were merely human beings struggling to commit to the task of everyday stewardship.

In the Gospels, we see glimpses of them longing for praise and affirmation. We see them jockeying for positions of power within the group of twelve. We see them expect earthly rewards like honor and admiration. We see them acting a lot like us.

But in the end, we see them transformed by the grace of God. Like all the saints, their holiness stems from their commitment to their call. They stumble through, and as they stumble, they keep trusting God. They keep turning to Him. They keep asking for help. They don't give up just because they keep failing at it.

We are defined by what we give when we have no hope of being reimbursed, rewarded, or recognized. The Apostles understood this, eventually, and they gave accordingly. Most of them gave their very lives.

Remember, they're just like us. If they can do it, we can too.

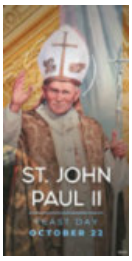
St. John Paul II | Feast Day October 22



St. John Paul II was born Karol Wojtyla in the small Polish town of Wadowice. During World War II, when the Nazis invaded Poland, Karol secretly studied for the priesthood in an underground seminary. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1946, appointed Archbishop of Krakow in 1964, and three years later he was made a cardinal. In 1978, he was elected the 264th pope, where he took the name John Paul II.

St. John Paul II made evangelization a key part of his papacy and made pastoral visits to all parts of the world. In 1981, he was shot twice in an assassination attempt. Following Jesus' example of compassion, he later met with his would-be assassin in his prison cell, where he forgave him for what he had done.

St. John Paul II was well-known to be an active sportsman throughout his life, hiking and skiing well into his 60s. In 1992, his health began to decline, and it was later discovered that he suffered from Parkinson's disease, a degenerative disorder of the central nervous system.

Near the end of his papacy, it became difficult for him to speak, and his poor health and physical suffering made public appearances difficult. Still, he continued his pastoral work. He died April 2, 2005, and he was declared blessed on May 1, 2011. He became a saint on April 27, 2014. ©LPi

Olympic gold and a blue bandana

One of the stars of this summer's Olympics was American swimmer Caeleb Dressel, winner of five gold medals in Tokyo.

Each time he stood on the podium, Caeleb had a blue bandana wrapped around his hand. The bandana, dotted with cows and flowers, is with Caeleb at every meet.

The bandana belonged to Claire McCool, Caeleb's high school math teacher in Green Cove Springs, Florida.

When Caeleb walked into Mrs. McCool's' freshman geometry class, he was already an accomplished swimmer. Olympic gold was clearly in his future. But the pressure of those expectations was a lot for a 17-year-old. Three years later, Caeleb decided to take a break from swimming. Mrs. McCool was there for him as a mentor and sounding board.

After undergoing surgery for a deviated septum and missing six months in the pool, Caeleb sought out Mrs. McCool for help.

"I was a 17-year-old kid, a top recruit coming out of high school, a lot of talk around me about expectations. I wasn't used to that. I was like any high schooler, trying to figure out my life." Mrs. McCool "helped me identify myself without swimming, and I think that's the one big thing that has helped me . . . that I am a person without the sport."

"He went through a little rough patch his senior year," Mrs. McCool said of that time. "We were already close, but we had some really serious conversations about life and what is important."

He returned to competitive swimming in 2016 at the SEC championships that propelled him to the Olympics in Rio. Caeleb swam the 50-yard freestyle with the word McCool written on his cheek.

Later that year, it was Caeleb who became Claire's support and inspiration when she was diagnosed with cancer. She died in 2017 at the age of 62 — after Caeleb won an astounding seven gold medals at the world championships in Budapest. Claire's husband Mike gave Caeleb one of Claire's workout bandanas — and he's kept it with him ever since.

Caeleb doesn't talk much about Claire — it's personal for him, not just another Olympic "feel good story." Claire's bandana on his hand says it all.

"There's no worldly possession that means more to me than that bandana . . . It's a piece of her that I'm always going to have, one physical piece that I have left of her."

In today's Gospel, Jesus poses the challenge: Can you drink the cup I will drink? Can you immerse yourself in my baptism? Jesus' question is a challenge; what Jesus asks us to take on is not easy: his life of humble service, his emptying himself of his own needs and wants for the sake of others. But there is also a promise here: that if we resolve to try to imitate Jesus' compassion, if we seek what is right and good and just, if we are motivated by generosity of heart, then the grace of God's wisdom and strength will be ours, the Spirit of God's compassion and mercy will be upon us. Claire McCool modeled such wisdom and generosity for Caeleb Dressel: the authority of her example enabled Caeleb to realize his "greatness" — and not just in the pool. May our lives be touched by similar "blue bandanas": living signs of those who inspire us and whom we inspire to realize the greatness of service and generosity in the Kingdom of God.
