The CoLab is a coworking and event venue that provides a shared space for small businesses, entrepreneurs, startups, freelancers and other like-minded individuals to collaborate, create, network and grow a business. We provide shared infrastructure, including equipment, utilities, custodial services, refreshments, and parcel acceptance services to our members. We also host workshops, seminars, and events geared towards business, technology, and networking. The real question though, is why choose a coworking space in the first place?

1. Cost saving:
- Have you ever looked into renting an office space for your business? The iceberg of office space rental is true to the analogy as it has a lot more cost beneath the surface. Utilities, internet connection, furnishing, security, office equipment and maintenance costs can take you by surprise and sink your ship before you even get started. Coworking spaces allow you to navigate around these costs and focus on what matters most, your business!
2. Flexible working schedule
- Locking yourself into a long term contract for an office space can be inconvenient and a drain on your funds. If your business experiences seasonal fluctuations or keeps you on the move, year round office space contracts could hinder your growth. Coworking spaces free you from this conflict as you can sign up on a month-to-month basis and only use it when you need it.
3. Work-Life Balance
- Anyone who works remotely can attest that there are times when the lines between home and office blur together. It can feel like you never take a break from the job. On the other hand, your home life bleeds into your work day and before you know if your focus is gone and your productivity decreases. Having a space to work gives you reason to get out of the house and have a firm work-life balance. This way you truly get to relax when you are at your home.
4. Networking & Collaboration options
- A software engineer, an environmental specialist, and an accountant talk shop at the water cooler… At its core, coworking spaces are a melting pot of people and businesses, making it the perfect place to network! When various sectors of industry come together, mountains can be moved. Tackling problems in your own work with insight and experience from others you wouldn't normally have can supercharge your productivity and give you a new frame of mind.
