United Way of Wayne County to Host Nonprofit Summit

Wayne County, NC- United Way of Wayne County is hosting a Nonprofit Summit on April 26, 2023, at the Walnut Building in Wayne Community College. The summit is an expanded version of the agency's annual nonprofit meeting and will include professional development workshops made possible through a collaboration with Wayne Community College.

The summit is open to nonprofits operating in Wayne County and will include a networking breakfast at no cost. Workshops will be offered to attendees on topics ranging from Board development, donor engagement, and leadership development. A short presentation about disaster preparedness and financial stability will also be given. United Way of Wayne County has secured Jeanne Allen of Jeanne Allen Consulting, Andrew Herrera of Curamericas Global, and Sam Wright of Armstrong McGuire to facilitate the workshops.

Jeanne Allen is a BoardSource Certified Governance Consultant and is an expert in board development and governance as well as nonprofit leadership development. She has over 25 years of experience in national, state, and local nonprofits as well as administration in a community college.

Andrew Herrera is the Executive Director of Curamericas Global and is responsible for leading strategic initiatives, the development of the Board of Directors, and the day-to-day operations of the agency. In 2020 and 2021, Andrew led the COVID response in NC to reach over 190,000 people with a focus on equity, ensuring communities who need it the most, had access to basic healthcare. Andrew has been recognized by the Triangle Business Journal as a Healthcare Hero and a 40 under 40 award winner.

Sam Wright is a Senior Advisor at Armstrong McGuire and has years of experience in the nonprofit sector leading fundraising strategies, brand development, and analytics management.

Interested nonprofit operators can register for this free event no later than April 21, 2023, by visiting www.unitedwayne.org/nonprofits. Questions about the summit can be directed to Pilar Parks by contacting (919) 735-3591 or pilar@unitedwayne.org.
