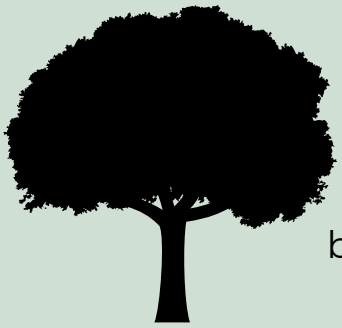
Educate People

Through webinars, workshops, and other resources we will develop and provide education on the importance of community and urban forestry, empowering faith and community groups to become faithful stewards of their environments.

Equip Leaders

Through two online learning cohorts we will equip leaders to plant, tend, and protect urban forests with a focus on community leadership that is project-oriented.



Empower Communties

By convening regional gatherings and coordinating spaces, events, and learning opportunities we will further collaboration between faith, community, and conservation partners to increase on-ground impact..

Expand Resources

Through a network of partners and volunteers we will support the distribution of no-cost native trees and community projects (tree planting, maintenance, or removals) as funding allows.
