Building Allyship & Sharing Privilege

During this session, we will discuss the critical role that white men and allyship play in creating a diverse and inclusive workplace. With two unique perspectives, Alison and Joe will share how diversity and inclusion professionals and business leaders from traditionally overrepresented groups can work together to create a more inclusive organizational culture. They will touch upon:

- The roles they have played in driving inclusion within their organizations;
- The reasons White Male executives are key to building diverse and inclusive workspaces;
- The respective challenges they have encountered; and
- The ways in which they have been able to effect meaningful change

This session will be led by Alison Banks-Moore, CDO of Horizon Blue Cross Blue Shield of New Jersey, and Joe Hayes, VP & COO for Prudential Group Insurance
