

Henrietta Audrey Oh Afari, MD Resident Physician at Mass General Hospital tuvuga Millennial Advisory Board

Henrietta Afari was born and raised in Accra, Ghana. She attended the United World College of the Atlantic in Wales, UK, and thereafter completed a BA degree (magna cum laude) in Social and Cognitive Neuroscience with a secondary field in Global Health and Health Policy at Harvard College.

Dr. Henrietta Afari received her medical degree from Harvard Medical School and is a Resident Physician at Massachusetts General Hospital.

