Powerful Resources

Never forget the three powerful resources you always have available to you: love, prayer, and forgiveness. –H. Jackson Brown Jr.

Here we are in April 2025 and the hands of time are quickly marching on. When threats of federal funding cuts become a reality, non-profits are disrupted. When resources are threatened here and abroad to be taken by force, allies become fearful. When daily life is disrupted, people are afraid.

Let's take a step back from the rough and tumble climate of the world and tap into some of the most powerful resources available to us. H. Jackson Brown, Jr., uses strong words like never and always. In the same breath he also uses love, prayer, and forgiveness, equally as powerful. Brown Jr. suggests we step back from the human world and rest in the spirit of the Holy.

When we hear words said in anger, let us offer prayers of love and forgiveness.
When we hear words of hate, let us offer prayers of love and forgiveness.
When we hear words of discrimination, let us offer prayers of love and forgiveness.

Let Us Pray

Holy Loving and Healing Creator,

Thank You for giving us the most powerful resources we could ever need.
The power of prayer, the strength of Your love, and the freedom of forgiveness.
May You teach us to engage each other with the love and compassion that draws us closer to You.
May You teach us to serve with honor and humility.
May You empower us to share Your resources with others.
May You open our hearts and minds as we strive for peace.

We Pray This in The Name of All That Is Holy, Amen
