

Dear friends,

Greetings in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. You are receiving this email because your district superintendent recommended you to be a part of this important training and/or because of a leadership or staff role you have within your church, district, or the conference.

Do No Harm is a conference provided by the General Commission on the Status and Role of Women (GCSRW) to equip individuals and the Church to prevent sexual harm and foster trauma-informed care. Through contributions from all eight district superintendents in the Virginia Conference, we have been able to obtain an unlimited number of registrations for this event. We are so grateful you are interested in participating this event.

In order to participate, you will need to register yourself. Here is how:

1. Visit the registration website.
2. Choose the "Professional Development—Annual Conference Designee" registration option. You will not be charged, since the conference has already paid the necessary fee.

If you have any trouble registering, please contact Rev. Dr. Tyler Schwaller or your district office.

Grace and peace,

Doug Forrester
