Support the Cities Initiative's $1 Billion Booster for Freshwater Health campaign

More than a dozen municipalities, including the Peel and Halton Regions, the Metropolitan Community of Québec, the City of St. Catharines, the Municipality of Chatham-Kent and the Regional Municipal County of Vaudreuil-Soulanges have passed a resolution in support of the Cities Initiative's $1 Billion Booster for Freshwater Health Campaign. As the federal budget approaches, the Cities Initiative is joining other organizations in pushing the federal government to implement its commitments to finally launch the Canada Water Agency and invest $1 billion in freshwater protection and restoration programs.

Did your municipality pass a resolution? Please make sure to send a copy to Phil Murphy-Rhéaume as we are compiling resolutions to send to the federal government ahead of the Budget.

If your municipality has not yet passed a resolution, please consider doing so and help build the case for critical funding that will support a healthier more sustainable Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River Basin.
