Wege Award, Call for Submission

Due to the cancellation of our annual meeting in May we were unable to offer our annual Wege Award. We are now calling for submissions so it can be awarded at our mid-year meeting in January. The award is given to a small city that demonstrates best practices in the area of sustainability.

As the world's largest resource of surface freshwater is in peril and needs leadership to protect it. While large cities have the resources to act, small cities – with populations of under 100,000- often do not. The Wege Small Cities Sustainability Best Practices Award program provides $5,000 to one small Cities Initiative member city in the U.S. or Canada. The award originated with the support of the Wege Foundation. The Cities Initiative and the Wege Foundation is proud to continue the tradition of this annual award to encourage environmental stewardship and recognize effort and results. The following is a list of some of the past recipients of the award.

2016 - Town of the Blue Mountains - Solar Lighting Initiative

2017 - Niagara Falls - Hyde Park Lake Restoration

2018 - Township of Tay - Severn Sound Invasive Species Strategy

2019 - Township of Tecumseh

The deadline for submission will be December 1, 2020. All submissions should be sent to kyle.hills@glslcities.org.
