Aimee Murphy

Client Advocate

JR and I have been married almost 38 years and have three children, a beautiful son-in-law and daughter-in-law, and five grandchildren. I lead a women's bible study, love all things "food", and enjoy the outdoors and being with family and friends.

I got involved with Daybreak over 35 years ago at their original location on Hampton Street. I had seen enough abortion in college, and then spent an entire day with a co-worker in the hospital who almost lost her life due to a botched abortion. I began to think… "I need to do something!" The pain I saw my co-worker go through made me realize I wanted to help women in similar situations. As a new mother, I felt God calling me to get involved with Daybreak, so I began serving as a hotline volunteer, answering phone calls at night, talking to the callers and then referring them into the office for further consultation. After serving as a hotline volunteer, I transitioned into Client Advocacy, where I continue meeting with clients experiencing unexpected pregnancies.

FUN FACT: One of my favorite places in the world is Israel. I have been two times and hope one day to take my family back.
