Daybreak Client Story

Most of us are familiar with the Jesus' Parable of the Sower and the Seed recorded in Matthew 13. The idea is that the gospel of the Kingdom of God is meant to be shared with everyone. Yet many will not embrace it for themselves depending on the condition of their hearts.

Here at Daybreak, as part of our mission, we share the good news that Jesus Christ died for all our sins and was resurrected in victory over death. We share, often never knowing the outcome. Yet, on occasion, we are privileged to share in their salvation experience. That is exactly what happened one Spring day last year as I led a young woman in her decision to receive Jesus as her Savior. The seed of the gospel may have been planted by another, but I did have the privilege of witnessing the seed taking root in her heart. Then, once her decision was made, I invited her to visit my church.

Following up a few months later, I learned she had had a miscarriage but was pregnant once again. I reminded her of Daybreak's online Baby Bucks program designed to educate our clients on such topics as pregnancy, parenting, breastfeeding, safety concerns, and even Bible studies among other topics. What impressed me was this young lady's enthusiasm and then her success in completing the program. This allowed her to shop with her "baby bucks" in our beautiful Taylor's Boutique as she prepared for her baby's arrival.

Sometime later, and much to my surprise, she texted saying that she and her boyfriend planned to visit my church the following day. Much to my delight, they arrived, we exchanged warm greetings, and I praised them for following through on their decision. Two days later, she again contacted me to inquire about the church's bible studies. What a blessing to be part of the process of leading my client to Christ, which also impacted her boyfriend. As God works in their lives, I expect that wonderful blessings are awaiting their family. As the apostle Paul said, "Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary." Galatians 6:9

Daybreak has been assisting women for over 40 years, not only in saving their babies' lives, but in leading them into a relationship with the spiritual Life Giver. Pray for us as we faithfully sow life-giving truths into the hearts of our clients.
