The Medfield Police Department
November 26 at 9:39 AM ·

On Monday, November 24th at approximately 7:40 a.m., the Medfield Police Department responded to the intersection of North Street and Green Street for a report involving a child who was "bumped" and knocked off his bicycle while using a crosswalk on his way to school. Thankfully, the child was not injured.

Witnesses described the involved vehicle as a silver sedan operated by a bald male. No additional identifying information was available. Our officers are actively investigating this incident and are working to identify the operator of the vehicle.

We want to reassure the community that incidents of this nature are rare in Medfield. However, we encourage everyone to remain vigilant and attentive while traveling through town—especially during school commuting hours.

Drivers are reminded to be alert for bicyclists and pedestrians in and around crosswalks, where children may be traveling to and from school. We also encourage bicyclists—particularly younger riders—to dismount and walk their bicycles across crosswalks and intersections whenever possible, as this greatly increases safety.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to contact Deputy Chief Barry McGrath at Bmcgrath@Medfield.net

Thank you for your continued cooperation and for helping us keep our community safe.
