ON THE SCENE

On the Scene is a column listing community events that runs each Thursday. Items will be edited to conform to Enterprise guidelines. Items must be submitted by email with the information contained in the text of the email. Submission of promotional flyers for upcoming events will not be processed. Items must be submitted at least seven days before the event. The information must contain a street address for the event. Submissions may be emailed to neighbors@hpenews.com

HIGH POINT MUSEUM

• Saturday, Oct. 31, 10 a.m. — 2 p.m., Let's Craft! Sugar Skull Banner in Little Red Schoolhouse. In celebration of Day of the Dead, make a sugar skull banner in remembrance of family and loved ones who are no longer with us. Sensory-friendly environment (dim lights, calm room, limited people) from 10 a.m. to noon. Free, all ages, drop-in event.

• Saturday, Oct. 31, 10 a.m. — 2 p.m., Día de los Muertos. The museum and YWCA Latino Family Center present a learning experience and celebration about the Day of the Dead, a Latin American holiday originating in Mexico. Altar exhibit will be on display Oct. 20 to Nov. 7. Including family entertainment and crafts.

• Saturday, Nov. 7, 10 a.m. — 2 p.m. Let's Craft! Paper Weaving in Little Red Schoolhouse. Learn how to paper weave your own piece of art.

Sensory-friendly environment (dim lights, calm room, limited people) from 10 a.m. to noon. Free, all ages, drop-in event.

• Saturday, Nov. 14, Noon — 4 p.m., Indigenous Cooking in the Historical Park. Costumed interpreters will cook dishes and discuss historic methods of native cooking. Food samples are unavailable to the public.

Demonstration only. Free, all ages, drop-in event.

• Wednesday, Nov. 18, 10 a.m., High Point Historical Society Presents: America's Hometown Movie Theaters. Benita VanWinkle will discuss the museum's newest exhibit, "Please Remain Standing," which features highlights from her new book showcasing a more-than-40-year photographic journey capturing historic American movie theaters and drive-ins. Free and open to the public. Light refreshments will provided. Join the museum for the official opening of the exhibit Thursday, Nov. 19.

• Saturday, Nov. 21, Noon — 4 p.m. Open Hearth Cooking Demonstration in the Historical Park. Learn how early Americans prepared and cooked for large dinner parties like what most of us experience during Thanksgiving. Food samples are unavailable to the public. Demonstration only. Free, all ages, drop-in event.

• Saturday, Nov. 28, 10 a.m. — 2 p.m. Let's Craft! Fall Leaf Chalk Art in Little Red Schoolhouse. Sensory-friendly environment (dim lights, calm room, limited people) from 10 a.m. to noon. Free, all ages, drop-in event.

For more information on these and other events call 336-885-1859 or visit www.highpointmuseum.org

HOLIDAY MARKET

The 19th annual Holiday Market and Craft Fair at Covenant Church, 1526 Skeet Club Road, will be held 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 7. More than 50 vendors, baked goods and food available, including smoked barbecue and chicken and homemade pimento cheese. Free hot cider.

VETERANS PARADE

The High Point Central High School Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (JROTC) will be participating in the 2026 Greensboro Veterans Parade on Saturday, Nov. 7, from noon to 2 p.m. The parade is expected to begin at the corner of North Elm Street and East Lindsay Street, continue down Elm Street to East Friendly Avenue, and end at Church Street. The event is described as featuring local high-school JROTC units, marching bands, veterans, military organizations and military vehicles.

LUNG CANCER SURVIVORS

LiveLung, a nonprofit cancer support organization, will host a special meeting to celebrate Lung Cancer Awareness Month with Triad lung cancer patients on Monday, Nov. 9. The luncheon is free for lung cancer survivors and their caretakers and will include merchandise giveaways and a visit with LiveLung founder Dusty Donaldson, a 21-year cancer survivor, as well as the LiveLung Skan Van. The event will be held at Steak Street, 3915 Sedgebrook St., High Point, at noon. Attendees must register and place their orders at least 48 hours in advance at https://bit.ly/4dyMQ8T.

ROTARY THANKSGIVING LUNCHEON

The annual Rotary Thanksgiving Luncheon of the High Point Rotary Club will be held Friday, Nov. 30, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Nido and Mariana Qubein Arena and Conference Center at High Point University. This year's guest speaker will be LaDonna Gatlin, the younger sister of country music's Gatlin Brothers, who also is a performing concert artist as well as a hall of fame speaker and expert in service leadership.

NAACP HOUSING SUMMIT

The NAACP High Point Branch will host its inaugural Economic Development and Housing Equity Summit Nov. 20-21 at the Loft at Congdon Yards, 400 W. English Road. The theme is "Building Equity: Empowering CommunitiesT hrough Opportunity and Access." More than 200 participants, including developers, policymakers, business leaders, housing professionals, workforce organizations and local residents, will address solutions to housing that promote fairness, expand access and strengthen community well-being. For more information and sponsorship opportunities, contact Richard Fuqua at rfuqua1@outlook.com.

TOY DRIVE

The High Point Housing Authority's annual Holiday Toy Drive is currently underway. The drive ensures that housing authority youth experience the joy of receiving a gift during the holiday. Drop unwrapped toys or monetary donations at the housing authority office at 500 E. Russell Ave., High Point, by Friday, Dec. 2. Monetary donations can be made via Cash App at $HPHAELBF, and checks should be made payable to Empowering Lives and Building Foundations Inc., ATTN: Back to School, P.O. Box 1779, High Point, N.C. 27261. For information call 336-887-2661.

FLU VACCINE

The Guilford County Health Department is now offering appointments for the 2026-27 seasonal flu vaccine for anyone aged 6 months and older. In High Point, appointments are available Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 501 E. Green Drive. To schedule an appointment, call 336-641-3245. When calling to schedule an appointment, ensure that health insurance, Medicaid, Medicare or Medicare Supplement information is readily available.

TRIAD COIN CLUB

The Triad Coin Club, based in High Point, meets at 7 p.m. the fourth Tuesday of each month, January through November, at Spring Hill United Methodist Church on Lexington Avenue in High Point. Doors to the fellowship hall open at 6:30 p.m. During the meeting, raffles and auctions will be held. For more information, contact Robert Ward by phone at 336-862-0802 after 6 p.m. or by text anytime.