HIGH POINT — A popular slugger will return to the High Point Rockers for the 2021 season.

Outfielder Quincy Latimore, a fan favorite who played for the Rockers during their inaugural season in 2019, will return to the Rockers this season, the team announced Tuesday.

Latimore hit .264 with 21 home runs and 86 RBIs during the 2019 season, finishing in the top 10 in the Atlantic League in homers. The 31-year old is a native of Apex, where he played at Middle Creek High School. He was a fourth-round pick of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 2007 and started his career with the Pirates' Gulf Coast League team that year.

Latimore was instrumental in helping the Rockers to a 74-66 record in 2019 and a trip to the postseason.

Latimore has spent time with the Cleveland Indians, Washington Nationals, Baltimore Orioles, Detroit Tigers and Los Angeles Dodgers organizations during his professional career.
