WILCOX EARNS BIG SOUTH WOMEN'S SOCCER AWARD

CHARLOTTE — High Point University's Morgan Wilcox was named the Big South Conference Women's Soccer Offensive Player of the Week.

The recognition followed her game-winning goal against Winthrop, which secured the Panthers the No. 3 seed in the upcoming conference tournament. Wilcox also scored against Charleston Southern and added an assist.

Wilcox scored the game-winning goal with just seven seconds remaining to cap a dramatic comeback against the Eagles. Her late finish completed a two-goal surge in the final two minutes, lifting the Panthers to an improbable 2-1 win.

Earlier in the week, Wilcox, a junior, had a goal and an assist against Charleston Southern, recording both in the same match for the first time in her career.
