Museum to host annual ghost stories event

BY ENTERPRISE STAFF

HIGH POINT — The spooky season is upon us, and the High Point Museum is hosting a ghostly gathering to celebrate.

Peter Turner

The museum's 15th annual "Ghost Stories in the Park" will be held Saturday from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the museum's Historical Park at 1859 E. Lexington Ave.

From 6 to 6:30 p.m., guests can make a craft with museum staff. Snacks will be available as visitors settle down to hear family-friendly, frightening, and amusing ghost stories from talented storyteller Peter Turner. Guests should bring chairs and blankets to sit on during the story.

Turner is an actor and playwright. He has appeared in more than 60 productions, with favorite roles including Pinocchio, Mowgli, and Fudge in "Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing." His plays have been performed at the Greensboro Cultural Arts Center, ART Station in Georgia, and the Barter Theatre in Virginia.

"This is one of our most popular fall programs," said Tamara Vaughan, the museum's communications coordinator. "We are excited for the chance to host Peter Turner and to welcome everyone back for the 15th anniversary of this event."

This will be an outdoor event, but it will be moved inside in the event of rain.

The program is free and open to the public.
