Faith & Fellowship Conference

Be inspired.....

"A day filled with worship, workshops, and enhanced opportunities to strengthen relationships among members of ANE urban and multi ethnic congregations. Leadership will be provided by gifted congregational leaders and District Staff. Worship Teams will provide a variety of musical offerings to include, contemporary, traditional, and instrumental praise. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to participate in this inspirational and educational event."

ANE Urban Ministries Initiative

Empowered to propose new vision and practices for ministry in the urban context and committed to building a broader network of relationships among those who have a passion for mission in the city.

Stewardship: Kay Weaver Carolina Izquierdo

With a keen interest in stewardship and financial planning, Kay brought both her business/stewardship experience as well as her Anabaptist faith to the District as Director of Stewardship in 2003. Previously, she had owned her father's Insurance business, Kay furthered her education in business management, estate planning, and security investments.

A portrait of a woman with dark, shoulder-length hair, smiling. She is wearing a pink top with a colorful, patterned collar. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

Carolina was born in the Dominican Republic. She came to this country in 1997, and moved to Lancaster in 2001. She was a member in Maranatha (Lancaster CoB), and is now the Pastor of Un Nuevo Renacer. She currently takes ministry classes through the Susquehanna Valley Ministry Center, and is married with 3 children.

The workshop "A Fruit-Filled Life" will be an overview of stewardship being the Christian's lifestyle. We will discuss how a life-time stewardship journey will help the individual and congregation have a fruit-filled life according to Galatians 5:22-23.

Church Security: Edwin Quijano

Member of the Brooklyn First CoB for over 30 years, Edwin currently serves as Moderator, Deacon and Acting Treasurer. He also serves as part of the Worship and Praise Team. Edwin represented the Church in the past as a Delegate at Annual and District conferences. Professionally, he currently works in executive protection. He served on the New York City Police Department from 1980 to 2000, first as a police officer patrolling the streets and subways, then as a Detective in the Special Investigations Unit.

The workshop will review past incidents in various churches across the country, explore some possible preventative measures, look at Christian perspectives in regards to issues of security and have a period of Q & A, and prayer.

Who Are The Brethren: Belita Mitchell

Belita is the lead pastor of Harrisburg First where she has served since 2003. Pastor Belita is a seasoned revivalist, workshop presenter and retreat leader. She has preached in pulpits across the United States and also in Puerto Rico and Nigeria. Her vision is for a church that is more spiritually alive, more ethnically diverse & fully devoted to sharing the good news.

Stranger Things: Helping Churches Engage Young People Calvin Park

Calvin is the senior pastor at Mechanic Grove CoB and was previously the Youth & Young Adult Pastor at Frederick CoB.

He has more than a decade of experience in youth and college ministry. He lives in Quarryville with his wife, two energetic boys, and their cat, Rey.

Young people have perplexed the church for a long time. It can feel like young people are from a culture so different from the rest of the church that it's impossible to reach them. But there has been a tremendous amount of research over the past decade into the most effective ways to engage young people.

This workshop will focus on discussion of a variety of best practices based from leading thinkers in youth and young adult ministry today.
