The production of package bees is dependent upon the weather in Georgia. In the past, the dates of expected delivery have shifted by as much as two weeks or more. I will post the latest information on my web site www.azapiaries.com as soon as I have any updates. It is your responsibility to monitor my site for the latest information including the time of pick up on the day that the bees arrive. Package bees are very perishable live animals that need to be treated with the utmost of care and respect. You will be expected to pick up your bees on the day that they arrive. With proper notification, I will hold them until Noon on the following day. After that time, you will forfeit them and, at my discretion, I will shift your order to a later load if there is room on that load. I will not refund money for no-shows or if the date is changed. At A&Z Apiaries, we recommend installation of our bees in standard Langstroth type beehives and will be happy to answer any questions regarding installation. If you choose to install them in Top Bar, Warre or any other type of hive, that is your choice but understand that we have no experience with those hives and cannot provide any support other than to stress that you need to find a way to feed your bees while they are getting established. We guarantee that you will receive healthy bees with a live mated queen. Due to variations in procedures and care, we do not guarantee that you will be successful with installation, safe release of the queen, or that your bees will successfully become established and flourish. By placing this order, you are accepting these conditions.
