Through RurAL CAP, the Division of Juvenile Justice, Department of Health and Social Services is awarding grants up to $8,000 to develop and implement projects that empower youth to make positive life choices.

This project increases youth protective factors by:

- Cultural Connectedness
- Life Skills
- Meaningful Engagement
- Community Support

Examples of Funded Projects
- Youth leadership training.
- Subsistence/culture camps.
- Learning opportunities between Elders and youth.
- And much more...

Grant Eligibility Requirements

- Applicants must be a federally-recognized Tribe or public or private 501 (c) (3) nonprofit institution in rural Alaska.
- Projects must benefit rural Alaska Native youth ages 12-17.

On May 22, 2017, FY18 RFPs will be sent out to as many communities as possible. Applications will be available on the RurAL CAP website: www.ruralcap.com
