commUNITY of All Creation

United Methodist Church
OF GENEVA

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Satruday
1 We pray that in our consumer driven world, we can find ways to care for and be good stewards of God's creation.	2 We reaffirming that all creation belongs to God, and give thanks for the wonder of Earth's abundance and diversity.	3 We pray for more awareness of the interconnectedness of our complex ecosystems,and for leaders and organizations to change habits that harm the environment.	4 We pray that we will recognize our actions affect global warming, and do what we can to leave a smaller footprint in our energy use.	5 We pray for us to change our household and personal habits by using less plastic, conserving water and electricity, and buying products with eco-friendly packaging.	6 We pray in thanksgiving for trees that provide shelter, shade, food, cleaner air, and beauty in our world.	7 We pray for marginalized communities and people living in poverty who suffer the negative impacts of hazardous environments and urban decay.
8 We pray for integration of our faith in daily practices.	9 We pray for peace for the people in areas of the world where there is ware and conflict.	10 We pray for the institution of environmentally just principles, policies, and practices locally and globally.	11 We pray for the land - dry, parched, flooded, misused - that we steward this precious treasure with sustainability and care.	12 We pray for policies and practices that meet present needs, but also ensure resources for future generations.	13 We pray for all of us to avoid overconsumption of goods, and do our best to repurpose and recycle, avoiding products that pollute.	14 We pray for significant action on state and national levels against global warming and climate change.
15 We pray for farm seed co-ops, good farming practices, and fair prices for farmers.	16 We pray for those in food deserts, that their access to appropriate food supplies improves.	17 We pray for strong protections of the land, food, and water rights for indigenous peoples.	18 We pray for individuals and families as they come to the table for nourishing meals.	19 We pray for improvement in food safety practices and more eco-friendly packaging.	20 We pray for children and adults who are hungry, that they have adequate food.	21 We pray for local food banks and food assistance services that provide much needed food.
22 We pray for clean and safe water for drinking in all parts of the globe.	23 We pray that we will be good stewards of our valuable water resources - our lakes, rivers, and oceans	24 We pray for responsible stewardship in the exploration of space in our solar system and beyond.	25 We pray that in future exploration we will, as John Wesley said, "do no harm" to planets or our solar system	26 We pray for both personal efforts, and national and global collaboration to reduce greenhouse gases that cause climate change and global warming of our ecosystem.	27 We pray for recognition that the Lord is over all our lives - every minute of every day and night.	28 We pray for those who work in the energy industry, for jobs and stabilization of income as shifts are made in our dependence on fossil fuels.
First Day of Advent 29 We pray as we remember God's creation of the Light and the Dark - and the life that was the Light for all People.	30 We pray in acknowledgement that others in all parts of the world join us in looking up at the stars in the night sky in wonder.
