FROM HRBC FAMILY MINISTRIES

During the summer, people are constantly traveling and are coming in and out. Attendance can either be fantastic, or it can be in a slump. Because there is so much instability in people attending, in the youth group, we take a break from teaching a series to having some summer games. Every Wednesday night is a water Wednesday in the youth. It is a time for fellowship and to bring unity in the youth group, but this summer, we are adding something to the mix, the power of testimony.

John wrote in Revelation 12:11, "And they have conquered by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony." A testimony is a powerful thing. It's a story of how God helped you overcome a test. So often, it is how God helped you overcome sin to get to salvation, but it really can be any obstacle or test in your life that God has helped you overcome. While testimonies make such an impact, many of our students do not know their leaders' testimonies. This summer, we are asking some of our youth leaders to tell their story.

The implications of telling kids our testimony are numerous. First, the youth can see that God has worked in our life in some of the same ways he is currently working in their life. Many youth maybe struggling with some of the very things our leaders struggled with. Testimonies are encouragement that God has the power and love to get you through your deepest struggles. A second implication is it develops unity among the youth and the leaders. Youth will respect leaders more when they discover their past experiences and will listen to them in Bible Studies if they give advice on a certain subject. Third, it shows transparency. We are not perfect people, nor have we ever been. We have been sinful, but we all chose to cling to the cross to help us overcome sin. It is our prayer that these testimonies will help the youth overcome their struggles by clinging to Jesus. In addition, we hope that students can develop their own testimony that they can use to lead others to Christ. God is at work in our student ministry, and we praise him for it.

George
