

AMERICAN INDONESIA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Women's CEO Summit

UNITED STATES ▼ INDONESIA

EVENT DETAILS

October 11, 2017

Washington, D.C.

THE CONCEPT

The bilateral relationship between U.S. and Indonesia is growing in geo-political importance in both commercial and political sectors. Women now play key roles in Indonesia's transformation from an aid dependent nation, to a 21st century entrepreneurial economic powerhouse.

The position of the Indonesian woman is rapidly evolving from typically traditional to currently consequential. As they take leadership roles leading to major changes in the world's largest Muslim country, challenges remain.

For almost 70 years, AICC has focused on building bridges between U.S. and Indonesian commercial partners. Many of those partnerships, private and public, have been guided by women.

The US-Indonesia Women's CEO Summit will bring together C-Suite women from both private sectors for a series of lively, open, and uniquely personal conversations focused on how they did it, how they do it and how they are planning for the future.

AICC is a 501 c6 not-for-profit membership organization registered in NY State since 1949.

Its board of directors and sources of funding are majority-based in the United States. AICC has never been subject to the Foreign Agent's Registration Act.

521 Fifth Avenue – Suite 1700, New York, NY 10175

About Us

The American Indonesian Chamber of Commerce (AICC) was established in 1949 before Indonesia received its full sovereignty from the Netherlands. A private membership organization headquartered in New York, AICC was the first US organization to openly lobby for Indonesia's independence. Members include major investors who have contributed greatly to Indonesia's economic development as well as small companies who are the lifeline in the US for Indonesia's exports. AICC members are primarily US companies but also include companies based in Indonesia as well as other countries.
