

Immersive Learning Weekend

May 6-7, 2017 at Lybrook, NM

An Intercultural Experience in Navajo Land for People of Faith

Organized by New Mexico Interfaith Power & Light and Lybrook Community Ministries

The Dine [Navajo] of New Mexico are our neighbors. They are ancient inhabitants of their place. They are also under attack. Their culture, their landscape, their air, earth, water and very lives are threatened by extractive industries that devastate much of what they hold dear.

This two-day event hopes to bring together a diverse group of New Mexicans from many geographic locations and faith traditions to experience Navajo land—to kindle relationships, to encourage reflection, to listen to the Spirit, and to act for justice.

Cost per person: There will be an initial $25 registration fee to confirm your spot. We encourage participants to give more on a donation basis. The experience includes home-cooked meals, lodging, facility use, tour guiding, and van transport, post-trip cleanup, and many peoples' willingness to devote their love, time and attention.

To Register or for questions: Contact NMIPL Executive Director at joankansas@swcp.com or Board Member Karen Bash revbash@gmail.com. Space is limited!