Student Positions with Rutgers Climate Institute

Rutgers Climate Institute is looking for highly motivated Rutgers students (undergraduate and graduate students are eligible) to fulfill hourly positions beginning May 2021 and at least through the 2021-2022 academic year.

One position is for webmaster, requiring proficiency with JOOMLA Content Management System or a demonstrated ability to pick it up quickly; additional writing and other opportunities are possible depending upon interests.

Other positions center on developing website, social media and promotional content; assistance with events; assistance with research.

Applicants should demonstrate excellent writing and organizational skills and keen attention to detail. To apply, submit a resume (please identify two references and their contact information) and a writing sample via email no later than 5:00 PM April 12, 2021 to Dr. Marjorie Kaplan, Associate Director, Rutgers Climate Institute (email: kaplan@envsci.rutgers.edu).