The E3A Certification philosophy is to provide professional training programs where debriefing is focused on feedback from horses coupled with strong facilitation skills that engage and challenge clients.

E3A offers comprehensive certification training in equine facilitated professional development and coaching. Our Certification Training is offered in small groups in order to provide one on one mentoring and experience facilitating E3 activities. Certification is earned through a team approach to delivering a quality program with real life clients. The complete certification program is comprised of multiple segments: a 90-minute teleseminar and two 3-day arena classes. In addition, students complete self-test questions from each training component to obtain a knowledge-based certification.

E3A's Certification is comprised of training that will assist you to:

- Understand the experiential education learning process utilizing E3A's 5-Question Model of Facilitation
- Develop an understanding of the difference between teaching, training and facilitation
- Learn about the coaching style of facilitation and how to keep from moving into a therapy focused session
- Develop skills to recognize and understand business team maturity, evaluate where a team is in the team change process, and to facilitate with these skills.
- Learn the life cycle process and successful techniques to design and conduct Equine Experiential Education (E3)
- Gain understanding of how to use a strengths-based philosophy to guide clients in professional or personal development.
