Dream. Pray. Act.

If you really look closely, you can see the fatigue around the edges of the staff. Holy Week, Easter, and the Revolutionary Love Conference was quite a bit to do in two weeks' time. But we did it! And though we are tired, we are thrilled with what we all—you, our staff, and our partners—did together. Thank you for your part in it!

Holy Week was tender. Easter was joyful, with some 1,200 people joining us in the building and online, celebrating the power of new life.

And the conference? More than 500 people came to what has been called the best conference ever. More than 400,000 total clicks into the livestream! Why? Because people think Middle Church is doing a special and bold thing in the world. They want to convene around the thing, around Revolutionary Love; and they think we know how to do it!!

Working at Middle Church? Hosting that gathering? Working with our team? Partnering across faiths to heal souls and the world? This is my dream come true. I work hard to support it, and John and I make a significant gift each year to make it happen.

As a young enslaved African, Harriet Tubman, who was known as Minty, survived a head wound that should have killed her. One symptom of the wound was the need for spontaneous deep sleep; in those moments, she would dream routes to freedom. She dreamed of liberation and her dreams came true for 300 souls. She took risks, she spent her capital, and she put her body on the line to make them free.

If we are dreaming of liberating God's people, we'll have to take risks, Middle Family. It takes hard work and we will be tired sometimes.

And liberation—this movement for love and justice—it takes money. I know that these times can make us want to hunker down and turn inward in order to survive. But we are connected. I don't survive without you; they won't survive without us.

Friends, we are behind on our offering goal. If we don't meet our offering goal by June 30, we are signaling to our Collegiate partners that though we talk of love and justice, we can't fund it. Though we talk of bold, revolutionary love, we don't believe strongly enough to support it. And if we don't make it, we will have to make cuts for next year. We'll have to assume that we can't afford our amazing programming, worship, and justice works and we'll have to let something go.

You've noticed we are talking more about money. We are talking about money because we need some! As you recall, the Collegiate Church did major capital improvement projects at its four churches in recent years. To pay for ours, our Collegiate funding has been reduced by $30,000 each year. In addition, each ministry has been asked to make funding 50 percent of its budget an urgent goal. This is our way of partnering in the creation of our new safe, accessible buildings.

At the time this was announced, Middle was funding 20 percent of its ministry. We have increased year by year, and currently are funding 37 percent of our budget—that is AMAZING! But we are not on track to make this year's offering goal. It is imperative that we meet the goal of $625,000 this year as we continue to lean into funding 50 percent by 2022. As of this writing, we need about $167,000 to meet the goal.

So, my question for you is this: Is Middle Church the stuff of your dreams? Do you feel called to liberation? If so, the staff and I need you. We can't afford any bystanders. There is too much work to do and it is not free!

Please join me in prayer about the spiritual gift of generosity, about giving some of what God has given you—maybe a tenth of it—to support God's dream. To complete God's Dream.

In my dream, we're all making it happen. Showing up. Loving. Being generous.

Love you.

Need you.

The Power of Giving

BY DEACON LILA BOYER

I had an unhealthy relationship with Church, God, and money. In that order. Going to church as a child was like a punishment. I had to stay all day, be quiet, be still, don't move and if I did any of those things, I got popped. God doesn't like me and I'm going to hell. At this point, I didn't care that much about God either.

I was given money to put in the basket at church. To be honest, the money didn't always make it there. I can't possibly give to the church and have candy, too! I don't have enough to give. I rationalized, "They don't need my money. Don't they have their own? I need my money more than they do!"

By the time I reached Middle Church in 2009, I was a hot mess. I brought all those issues with me. One Sunday, I noticed I had spent my whole Sunday morning and afternoon at Middle. There are small groups, Wee Care, concerts, congregational meetings, social hall gathering, marches, you name it—there's something for everyone. All in the name of seeing God's amazing Love Period. What was striking about this? I didn't want to leave, unlike in my childhood when I always wanted to leave.

Here at Middle the recurring theme is I'm awesomely and wonderfully made. Nothing can stop God from loving me. What a relief! I felt connected to the people and the message of Middle. I wasn't forced to stay. I made a personal decision to stay. Something was shifting; my spirit was being healed. I had a new outlook about Church and God. Do I dare say it? I was being transformed.

At the time, I was laid off from work and receiving unemployment. Spirit started moving and said, "Give." All of the old issues resurfaced. I exclaimed, "God, I'm on unemployment! Are you serious? My bills versus giving?"

We are reminded that there is a time to reap and a time to sow. By sowing into Middle I reaped so much more. I learned to give consistently on a monthly basis. It took some emotional and mental discipline. It was painful. I had to let go of my fear that I wouldn't have enough if I gave. I started small and steady. I began to notice a personal and spiritual shift.

As I began to give, I noticed that my self-esteem started to grow and I started trusting God more for Provision. The reciprocity of trust and faith between me and God is immeasurable. I can't out-give Her.

Our giving to Middle has a ripple effect like a pebble tossed on a body of water. We never know how people are going to be spiritually transformed as the ripples spread.

I'm asking you to take that same walk of faith and trust. Will you give on a recurring basis—monthly or weekly—and watch God's unwavering provision in your life?

Middle Collegiate Church is a multicultural, multiethnic, intergenerational movement of Spirit and justice, powered by Revolutionary Love, with room for all. Following in the Way of Jesus' radical love, and inspired by the prophets, Middle Church is called by God to do a bold new thing on the earth. We aim to heal the soul and the world by dismantling racist, classist, sexist, and homophobic systems of oppression.

Because our God is still speaking in many languages, we work in interreligious partnerships to uproot injustice, eradicate poverty, care for the brokenhearted, and build the Reign of God on earth. This activism is fueled by our faith; our faith is expressed in art; our art is an active prayer connecting us with the Holy Spirit. Founded prior to this nation, Middle Church affirms the transformative power of moral imagination, reclaiming and reframing Christianity inside our walls, on the street, and in virtual spaces around the globe.
