

Make your voices heard!

Do you want to help create information about COVID-19 for the Denver metro American Indian (AI) community and loved ones?

If so, join our workgroup!

What is the AI COVID-19 Workgroup and What will they do?

Join fellow community and project team members to learn all about COVID-19 vaccines from a medical expert. Then, we will meet as a group to develop messages and materials about COVID-19 vaccines specifically for the Denver AI community.

Who can help?

- Anyone who wants your community to be healthy
- Anyone who wants to work with others to create important health information
- Anyone who is American Indian or Alaska Native
- 18 years of age or older
- No prior experience or education is necessary. All levels of knowledge welcome.

What will you be part of?

We will meet from 5:30-8:30 pm on Wednesday, September 15th for a kick-off virtual "retreat" and then from 5:30-7:30 pm for 7 more Wednesdays. All meetings will be held over Zoom and you can connect by phone or computer.

The first cycle will focus on the COVID-19 vaccine for adults. There will be a second cycle that will focus on COVID-19 vaccination for children that you can sign up for if you are interested.

What are the benefits of your participation?

You will receive $400 per cycle for your time and contribution (eight total meetings including the "retreat"). You will get to see your ideas and campaign in action, helping your friends and neighbors make informed decisions about COVID-19 vaccination.

Who do I contact if I'm interested?

Crystal LoudHawk-Hedgepeth , MSCS, MED
Call or Text: 720-588-0057
Email: cryslhcctsi@gmail.com

Colorado Clinical and Translational Sciences Institute (CCTSI)
DENVER INDIAN HEALTH AND FAMILY SERVICES
NIH CEAL Community Engagement Alliance | CO-CEAL COVID-19 Colorado Alliance