CMAS: Every Student Counts, Every School Matters

Colorado's only statewide, transparent view of student learning and needs

What Makes CMAS Unique?

- A clear picture of learning: CMAS is the only test taken by all Colorado students each year, giving families a statewide snapshot of how their child is doing.
- Meaningful results: Scores show your child's end-of-year progress and how their learning compares with classmates, the district, and students across Colorado.
- Connected to the classroom: CMAS reflects what students learn every day and is aligned to Colorado's academic standards.
- Teacher-informed: Colorado teachers help develop and review CMAS to ensure questions are appropriate, relevant, and instruction-focused.
- Supports better schools: Results help schools and districts identify what's working and where extra support is needed—so resources can be directed where they matter most.
- Transparency for families: CMAS provides clear, public information about how well schools are serving all students in the community.

What Families Can Expect

- Schools will administer CMAS during the spring testing window.
- Results will be available in the Family Portal by June 1 - State ID (SASID) required
- Use results to better understand your child's strengths and identify ways to support their learning before the next school year.
