Amit Shahar (31) is Dror Israel's Engagement Director and Acting Liaison to Florida, working to expand the organization's international relationships and deepen connections with partners who share a commitment to education, social responsibility, and long-term social change. Alongside his international engagement work, Amit is part of Dror Israel's headquarters leadership team, where he serves as Manager of Organizational Sustainability and Government & Institutional Resource Development. In this role, he leads the development and management of public, governmental, and institutional partnerships that support the organization's long-term stability, growth, and strategic vision.

Amit is a member of Dror Israel's Educators Kibbutz in the northern city of Carmiel and brings a strong field-based perspective to his leadership roles. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Education and is currently completing an MBA in Social Entrepreneurship. Amit is passionate about translating Dror Israel's educational and social mission into meaningful collaborations with individuals, institutions, and government bodies, and about building partnerships that create lasting impact for communities in Israel and beyond.
