American Wines

With July Fourth here we celebrate the birth of one of the greatest countries in the world, and also, undoubtedly one the greatest wine producing countries in the world. The great expanse of land that is the United States provides plenty of variety in terroir and a plethora of different climates that make it fit for every style of wine possible. Whether it's the continental climate of the Columbia Valley, the Maritime climate of Long Island, the Mediterranean climate of Napa Valley, or the desert surrounding Albuquerque, the United States has it all. This month we'll be featuring wines that celebrate this diversity and showcase how far wine in the United States has come.

From Washington state we have L'Ecole Frenchtown, a red blend that demonstrates why Columbia Valley is the up-and-coming AVA for Bordeaux varietals. Just south in the Willamette Valley of Oregon we have a Pinot Gris that's bright, tangy, and crisp, along with Drouhin's Roserock Pinot Noir. Robert Drouhin was the first Burgundy producer that recognized the Willamette as being world class after The Eryrie Vineyards Pinot stood up to his Chambolle-Musigny in a blind tasting competition. He was so impressed he immediately purchased land in Oregon. Next, we have the famous Napa Valley, with quintessential examples of their Cabernet Sauvignon and Sauvignon Blanc; Peju and our wine of the month Freemark Abbey. From here we go to the Central Coast where we have a Rhone style blend from Paso Robles and Syrah from Santa Barbara. Finally, the last of our featured USA wines include one of the top Riesling producers from the Finger Lakes along with something more off the beaten path with Gruet's Sauvage Rose Sparkling from New Mexico!

On a final note, I would be remiss to not feature what in my opinion is the most patriotic wine available, aged Madeira. This Portuguese fortified wine was one of the few imported wines that could withstand the long trip across the Atlantic, and was a favorite amongst the Founding Fathers. It was the wine used as a toast while signing the Declaration of Independence, where the likes of Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, Alexander Hamilton, John Adams, and Ben Franklin guzzled down 54 bottles! Celebrate the Fourth like The Founding Fathers, with a big glass of Madeira!

L'Ecole No. 41 2018 Frenchtown Red
Columbia Valley. Rated 90pts, Wine Enthusiast. "Blue fruit, milk chocolate and mint aromas are followed by sumptuous, rich, layered blue and red fruit flavors. Coffee notes linger on the finish. It's thoroughly delicious—a big-time value at this price."
Retail: $22.99 Sale $20.99

David Hill Estate Pinot Gris 2019
Willamette Valley. Aromas of nori and an oceanic breeze create the first impressions of this Pinot Gris. Centered and attention grabbing, the mid palate continuously delivers flavors of kumquat and golden delicious apples. Firm umami flavors balance out the tannin structure, and enhance the seriousness of this high-tension wine.
Retail: $21.99 Sale $18.99

Drouhin Roserock Eola - Amity Hills Pinot Noir 2018
Willamette Valley. Rated 93pts, Wine Advocate. "Medium ruby, the 2018 Pinot Noir opens to delicate but layered, spicy raspberries and rhubarb with uplifted citrus and floral notes. Medium-bodied, the palate offers a ripe, seamlessly fresh frame with layered, spicy fruits and a long, uplifted finish."
Retail: $34.99 Sale $30.99

Peju Province Cabernet Sauvignon 2018
Napa Valley. Showcasing a beautiful violet color in the glass, this 2018 Cabernet Sauvignon lures you in at the first glance. The vibrantly intense flavors of plump dark fruit, dark cherry, cocoa powder, greet the palate. The velvety tannins add structure and send a wave of luxuriously rich texture. A blend of baking spices and dark chocolate weave seamlessly to create an essence of Mexican hot chocolate.
Retail: $54.99 Sale $39.99

Ancient Peaks Renegade 2017
Paso Robles. Rated 92pts, Wine Enthusiast. "Dark in the glass, this blend of 37% Syrah, 24% Malbec, 16% Petit Verdot, 13% Zinfandel and 10% Petite Sirah is intense in aromas of black fruit, loamy soil and wet herbs. It lands on the palate with a hearty mouthfeel, delivering flavors of black currant, roasted meat, black pepper and toasty oak."

Retail: $23.99 Sale $19.99

Ex Post Facto Syrah 2018
Santa Barbara. Rated 94pts, Wine Enthusiast. "Slightly lighter in the glass than other Syrahs, this bottling is immensely savory, showing cracked pepper, crushed rocks, dried blackberry and black plum on a well-focused nose. It's very fresh on the palate, with snappy black raspberry and a dusting of white pepper, with warming hints of baking spice into the finish."
Retail: $36.99 Sale $30.99

Red Newt Cellars Circle Riesling 2018
Finger Lakes. Circle Riesling is meant to be a quintessential example of Finger Lakes Riesling; a touch of residual sugar to bring out the rich orchard fruit flavors without overwhelming the lemon zest and citrus that make it crisp and refreshing to drink. The overall wine is easy to drink but made with as much seriousness and as many individual layers as any Riesling that Red Newt releases. The philosophy is simple; a crowd-pleasing wine should still be multifaceted.
Retail: $16.99 Sale $13.99

Gruet Sauvage Rose Sparkling
New Mexico. Rated 93pts, Wilfred Wong. "The Gruet Family Sauvage Rosé Zero Dosage is one of the best sparkling wines in the marketplace. This wine shines from start to finish. Pair its classy and attractive red fruit and earth-tone flavors with grilled salmon and fresh garden greens."
Retail: $19.99 Sale $17.99

Carmo Vinhos Madeira Verdelho 10yr
Portugal. A brilliant amber colored wine with golden and greenish nuances. Rich aromas of dried fruits, namely raisins, honey and old wood. Medium bodied, full flavors of dried fruits and spices. Light acidity in perfect balance with its body. A complex and vibrant wine, showing vivacity and freshness with a long finish. Retail: $46.99 Sale $37.99

Wine of the Month
July 2021

Freemark Abbey 2019 Sauvignon Blanc
Napa Valley, USA

Freemark Abbey is one of the original wineries of Napa Valley. Opened in 1886 by Josephine Tychson, a widow who became one of the first woman winemakers on record in Napa. It was shut down due to prohibition, but was opened back up in 1939 by three businessmen, Charles Freeman, Marquand Foster, and Albert "Abbey" Ahern, as the Freemark Abbey we know and love today. Their Sauvignon Blanc is crafted in a similar fashion as their Bordeaux Blanc cousins. Focusing on balance, finesse, and minerality opposed to overpowering rich fruit. A very classy wine suitable for any occasion.

Rated 91pts Wilfred Wong – "The 2019 Freemark Abbey Sauvignon Blanc is stylish and true-to-type. This wine offers an attractive aroma and flavors of tropical fruit, mango, and melon. Enjoy with grilled oysters topped with smoked bacon."

New Spirits!

Until the passage of the 2014 Farm Bill, growing hemp was illegal in the U.S. for more than 70 years. As a result, hemp seed has been unavailable for the widespread use in food products, let alone in the mash bill of whiskeys. SoNo 1420 has changed that! By experimenting with this nutritious grain in their recipes, SoNo 1420 has developed bourbon and rye mash bills that perfectly balance traditional whiskey grains like corn, rye, wheat and barley with hemp seed to create delicious, "hemped" whiskeys unlike any spirits in the market. One taste of these remarkable whiskeys is all it takes and you, too, will be a believer! Hemp seeds are exceptionally nutritious and rich in healthy fats, protein and various minerals. They are a great source of protein and contain high amounts of vitamin E, potassium, magnesium, calcium, and iron. Characterized by a mild, nutty flavor, hemp seeds can be consumed raw, cooked or roasted. Hemp seed oil is also very healthy, and has been used as a food/medicine in China for at least 3,000 years.

SoNo 1420 Hemped Bourbon

"The Double Gold designation is awarded to the very few entries that receive Gold medal ratings by all members of the judging panel. These are among the finest products in the world." $39.99/375ml
