Provider Action Plan

- ✓ Email individuals that you have met this weekend, or people that you know have been engaged in the past network efforts within next 30 days and see if they are ready to join the team!
- ✓ Identify 2-3 individuals that can meet within the next 90 days with an agenda of how to move forward together.
- ✓ Mention SV-ONE on a regular basis to all patients.
- ✓ Advertise to all single ventricle patients and families (including inpatient efforts) about the Spring Learning Session (May 20, 2026).
- ✓ Host a watch party and extend the invite to all!

Strategies for learning contributors

- View yourself as part of the team, not a passive patient
- Speak up about your goals
- Take notes and be organized
- Begin to voice collective vs individual opinion
- Ask for clarification if you aren't clear
- Treat all team members – nurses, doctors, therapists, surgeons, other families - as equal partners
- Be respectful and patient, even during potentially challenging or emotional conversations
- Know your personal journey and be able to speak clearly on it
- Think of ways in which other families not like your own might experience the discussion.
    - Consider factors such as religion, cultural influence, and other demographics before giving feedback.
    - What works for one family might not work for another.
- Express appreciation when something is done well.
- Teamwork improves when people feel valued

Collaboration thrives on mutual respect, but your voice improves the system for everyone.
