HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION IN GEORGIA

GEORGIA Property Tax Exemptions

The State of Georgia's Department of Revenue states that a homeowner is entitled to a homestead exemption on their home and land underneath provided the home was owned by the homeowner and was their legal residence as of January 1st of the taxable year. If your home is located within city limits, you may need to file for exemption with the city as well. Seniors, Veterans & Disabled citizens may qualify for additional tax exemptions. You will find that information on these links also. For most counties if there is a deadline it is April 1st—check your county link to determine if there is one.

Barrow County Homestead Exemption
Bartow County Homestead Exemption
Cobb County Homestead Exemption
Clayton County Homestead Exemption
Cherokee County Homestead Exemption
Douglas County Homestead Exemption
DeKalb County Homestead Exemption
Fayette County Homestead Exemption
Forsyth County Homestead Exemption
Fulton County Homestead Exemption
Gwinnett County Homestead Exemption
Hall County Homestead Exemption
Jackson County Homestead Exemption
Paulding County Homestead Exemption
Pickens County Homestead Exemption
Walton County Homestead Exemption