F. A commitment to work the available time is a serious commitment. Failure to report to work pursuant to the available time commitment and without timely notification (6 hours) will result in the employee being barred from available time for one (1) posted schedule period. The employee will not be allowed to sign up on the next posted schedule.

G. Nurses who engage in a pattern of cancelling their commitment to available time will be barred from available time for one posted schedule period. A pattern shall be defined as two cancellations within one posted schedule period or one cancellation in each of any four (4) consecutive posting periods. The employee will not be allowed to sign up on the next posted schedule.
