Unused/canceled exams
Exam(s) canceled or not taken by a student will incur a cancellation fee from College Board and LWSD of $45. Refund to student, per test: $101 - $45 = $56

Step 1: Register for exam through your College Board account.
You must have a College Board account to register. Many students already have an account. The same College Board account is used for the PSAT, SAT and AP. Do NOT create a second account - this may prevent scores from being shared with correct colleges. If you choose "reset password" you should check all of your email addresses.

- Students register for exam(s) via AP Central. AP teachers and the school's AP coordinator will have the codes that students will use to register for each exam. Receive a JOIN CODE from your teacher.
- Ensure your exam registration is showing on your College Board MyAP Classroom site for each exam you are planning to take.

Students who are testing with accommodations should reach out to Joe Joss (AP Coordinator) for an 'ATC' join code. Students whose accommodation requests are approved by the College Board will take their tests at the LWSD Resource Center.

Step 2: Pay for your exam at your school.

- Payments can be made with cash, check or credit card with your school's Bookkeeper.

- If you receive Free/Reduced Meals, you must still follow the payment steps (on InTouch or the Bookkeeper Window). You will not be charged, but this step is required for a complete registration.
- InTouch directions: select the exam you want to take and proceed to checkout. You should see $0 as the total. If you believe there is an error, please reach out to Ms. Poblete & Mr. Joss
- Bookkeeper Window: Let Ms. Poblete know which exam(s) you'd like to take, and she'll let walk you through the process.

Both steps must be completed by October 19, 2026, 11:59 p.m.
LWSD does not order exams for incomplete registrations. An incomplete registration is one that is missing either part: registering for the correct exam(s) or submitting payment. If either step is missing, an exam will not be ordered. LWSD is not responsible for errors made by students during the registration process.
