CERAH SPEAKER SERIES

Walking Alongside Indigenous Peoples who are Seriously Ill: A Wholistic, Community-Based Approach to Education for Caregivers

October 1, 2026 | 12 - 1:30 p.m. ET

Join us and become familiar with the three parts of the Walking Alongside Indigenous Peoples Who Are Seriously Ill: Education for Community Caregivers initiative: the Resource Website, Caregiver Pathway Guide, and Building the Circle of Care training. Explore how these resources can help caregivers, families, and communities feel more prepared and supported throughout the serious illness journey. Learn how to access, use, and share the more than 130 free Walking Alongside resources and training in your own community, organization, or caregiving setting to support wholistic, culturally safer care.

Holly Prince
Lead, Indigenous Peoples' Health & Aging Division, CERAH, Lakehead University

Kassandra Fernandes
Knowledge Mobilization Lead - Curriculum Developer CERAH, Lakehead University

Jessica Wyatt
Knowledge Mobilization Lead CERAH, Lakehead University

Kathy MacLeod-Beaver
Knowledge Carrier, Cultural Support

Everyone welcome to attend visit cerah.lakeheadu.ca/events or

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

knowledge collaboration action

Lakehead UNIVERSITY | Centre for Education and Research on Aging & Health