About this series

Becoming Human: Waldorf 101 has been carefully curated to assist parents with practical applications of popular topics such as conflict resolution, child development and how to support Waldorf education at home. Each class is dynamic with a strong Q&A component, and can be shaped to address the age group of the audience's children.

Patricia Rubano is the current director of the Biography and Social Art Program. She is a member of the International Trainer's Forum and attended the Biography Counseling Course in England. Her training in Spacial Dynamics keeps her flexible and her three grandsons keep her humble. She has been a Waldorf early childhood educator and student of Anthroposophy for over 30 years and currently serves as a mentor and evaluator in many schools.
