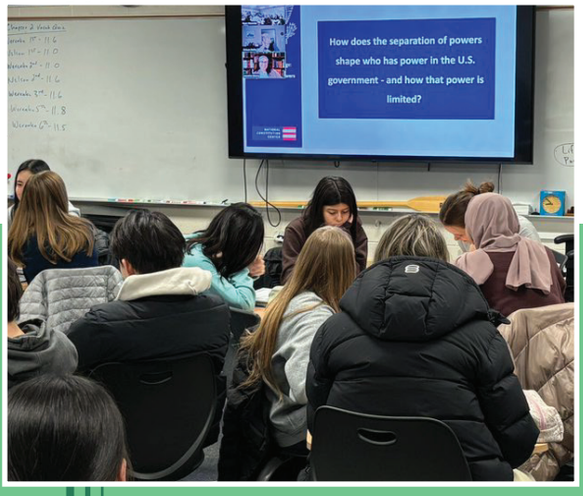
our story CONTINUES 250



Thank you for volunteering your time, energy, and expertise to the National Constitution Center Scholar Exchange program. You have made an impact on students nationwide.

"One thing I learned from this guest speaker is just how complex the legal field can be. Instead of a singular answer, there can be multiple with different reasonings. As a result, I found this guest speaker very insightful and interesting with the topics she would bring up and how she motivated us to try new things that could be challenging."

- Emily, high school student

"We enjoyed the Scholar Exchange and can't wait for further opportunities. The students react so positively to the discussion and seem to realize and appreciate the unique nature of the experience when they can connect with a scholar and move beyond our written material."

- Stephen M., high school educator

"The scholars were all excellent. I was so happy with how engaged my morning classes were and how open to questions the scholars were..."

- Brittany D., high school educator
