COLLABORATION

The Arc and AT&T are collaborating to boost technology skills through accessible digital skills training. In today's digital age, technology is essential for accessing transportation, education, employment, health care, and social interaction. However, people with disabilities face significant barriers to adopting digital tools - together, we are working to change that for Virginians.

TECHNOLOGY TUESDAYS

Join us for FREE technology training every Tuesday from March 18 to June 24! Each five-week series covers essential digital skills, with daytime and evening sessions. You can attend the full series or pick the sessions that interest you. The series repeats until June, so you have multiple chances to join. Certificates are awarded for each session you attend!
