Lorna Ladd lives in Winona Lake with her dog Carl. She retired after 44 years of service from the local telephone company. Her career began while in high school, working as a long-distance operator connecting calls through traditional cord boards. In her former church she worked the information desk on Sundays. For over 25 years she has volunteered with the local police departments in her community serving as a crisis intervention advocate for sexual assault and domestic violence victims. She is currently working part-time at the Winona Lake Police Department as their administrative assistant. On her down time, she likes to shop on-line, watch everything British on TV and take naps. Lorna would like to thank everyone for their kindness and warm welcome as she becomes part of the Plymouth Church family.

Frank Ludwig has lived in the Northern Indiana area for most of his life. He has taught all levels of education from elementary to high school. He has worked in regular education and special education for 46 years. He enjoys working out, biking, and eating out with friends. He loves dogs and all pets. He has been involved in all aspects of church from teaching Sunday School to preaching from the pulpit in small churches. He grew up on a farm but is really a city boy at heart. He is currently retired but still works as a substitute teacher part-time.

Jeremy Magers was born and raised in Louisville, Kentucky, and would have stayed there if a small-town Ohio girl named Katrina hadn't stolen his heart. The two eventually settled down in Fort Wayne Indiana, where Jeremy found a career in video production that fuels his passion for storytelling and cinematography. When he's not busy being a full time dad to his three kids, you can find him at the YMCA working up a sweat or sitting on the couch playing the Switch 2 with his son. After being a regular attendee at Plymouth for over a year, Jeremy is excited to make Plymouth his church home and become more involved in the community!

Katrina Magers grew up an hour east of Fort Wayne in the small town of Ottoville, Ohio. She moved here for work after getting married to her husband, Jeremy, in 2017. They've since had 3 children: Oak, Magnolia, & Sunny. She works in public health and enjoys spending time with family by camping and being outside. She is an avid reader, loves cooking, & started training for roller derby. She's excited to raise her kids in the progressive Christian church.

Jeffrey O'Donnell lives in Topeka Indiana and works in retail in the town of Shipshewana. He enjoys walking with his 2 dogs and spending time with friends.

Brandon Porter has been an active friend of Plymouth Congregational Church for more than 20 years and is excited to officially become a member. He serves as Plymouth's

Associate Director of Music, where he shares his passion for ministry through music by leading worship, singing in the choir, serving as a song leader, playing handbells, and leading our dramatic arts productions. Brandon believes music and the arts are powerful expressions of faith that inspire, unite, and create meaningful connections within the congregation. Outside of Plymouth, he works in economic development at Greater Fort Wayne Inc. and serves as Artistic Director of Genesis Outreach Presents. He is grateful for Plymouth's welcoming and affirming community and looks forward to continuing to share his gifts through music, worship, and service.
